

SLOW GAME WON BY I. A. C.

Defeated Morrisville Saturday by Score of 11 to 4

NO FIELDING FEATURES

Home Pitchers Were Wild Until Weasler Came into Box and Stopped the Free Ticket Business—Visitors Were Weak.

The Italian Athletic club chalked up another victory Saturday afternoon by defeating Morrisville in a rather slow and listless game at Rangers' field, the score standing 11 to 4. Morrisville's first score came in the second, on an error by David, two free passes to first, and hits by Baker and Boardman. The remaining two runs in the third, when Colegani, the Italians' second-string pitcher, after filling the bases, forced a run by leaving a pass to Anair. He was pulled out at this stage and replaced by Francesco, who also gave a free trip to the first sack and allowed Norton to cross the pan. He, in turn, was replaced by the old reliable Weasler, who managed to stop the awful slaughter. David entered the box in the next inning and allowed no more scoring.

The Italians were able to tally in every inning except the sixth. Their big inning, however, was the seventh, three men scoring on two singles and a like number of free passes to first.

Fielding features were few and far between, but the aggressive stick work of Tonazzi, Rosendi, David and Brown for the Italians, and that of Baker, Liberty and Weasler for the visitors was especially marked. The score:

LITTLE INTEREST SHOWN.

In Either Baseball or Wrestling at Inter-city Park Saturday.

A crowd of about 100 people witnessed the wrestling match and baseball game at Inter-city park Saturday afternoon. If there was any enthusiasm and interest shown for the revival of Northern League baseball on this occasion, as it was announced beforehand there might be, it certainly did not come to the surface. The baseball game between the Barra Independents and the pick of Montpelier, resulted in a 12 to 1 victory for the Barra team, only six innings being played, to allow the wrestling match to start on time, and before the wrestlers had finished their one-sided match most of the people had left for home.

The wrestling match was between Sam Anderson, who was announced the mid-weight champion of the world, and Sandy McLeod of Scotland, said to be the light heavy-weight champion of his native soil. McLeod appeared to be more than an equal for Anderson in strength and physical condition, but he displayed little skill in the game for a champion and was no match for his opponent. Anderson won the first fall in 24 minutes, with a body and half nelson hold, and the second fall in 8 minutes, with a crotch and arm hold. Eli Bourdon was referee.

In the ball game, Barra scored four tallies in the first inning, three in the second and five in the sixth. Montpelier squeaked in their tally in the fifth. Harry Chamberlain was in the box for the Montpelier aggregation and was hit freely, allowing 12 hits, while Blake, who twirled for Barra, allowed four. Barra had new recruits on their team, in Maiden and Gargg for the Spaulding team and Lee and Wishart from Goddard.

BARRE TEAM DEFEATED.

10th Cavalry Players Won in 10 Innings, 4 to 3.

Fort Eliza Allen, June 6.—The 10th Cavalry team defeated the Barra Athletic club at the post yesterday afternoon, 4 to 3, in one of the most sensational games played there. Fully 2000 people were out and remained through the ten innings.

The visitors made one in the first, and the soldiers came back with two, in the third the locals put another across the pan and Barra scored one. Again in the fourth the Barra people got another, evening up the score. The game then went ten innings, when Dalley came across with the winning run on Barrows' single. After Dalley had singled, Barrows was put in as a pinch hitter, in place of Reinford, and he made good. Thompson was in good form, holding

The visitors down to four hits and fanning seven. Bradley and Tucker were also very much in the game, the former getting three stolen bases. The soldier boys managed to get eleven bingles, but they were much scattered.

ON COLLEGE DIAMONDS.

Yale Wins Over Princeton—Holy Cross Drubbed.

Yale's victory over Princeton Saturday was the one big feature among the college games. The Tigers got away well, but were unequal to the task of keeping the pace. Princeton, on form, should have won, but maybe it will when it has the game on its own field next Saturday. Williams doubled Holy Cross soundly and Harvard took a fall out of Cornell in a well-played overtime contest, 2 to 1. Andover won its game of the year Saturday from Exeter, amid the usual great excitement, 6 to 4. Michigan and Notre Dame went 18 innings, the Wolverines winning out. The results:

At New Haven, Ct., Yale 4, Princeton 2.
At Worcester, Williams 11, Holy Cross 2.
At Cambridge, Harvard 8, Cornell 1.
At Hanover, Dartmouth 12, "Aggies" 9.
At Philadelphia, Pa., Pennsylvania 14, Syracuse 0.
At West Point, N. Y., Army 7, Bucknell 0.
At Hartford, Ct., Trinity 2, Columbia 1 (11 innings).
At Durham, N. H., Boston college 7, New Hampshire 4.
At Troy, N. Y., Rensselaer 5, Middlebury 4.
At Middletown, Ct., Fordham 5, Wesleyan 0.
At Cambridge, Harvard freshmen 1, Holy Cross 0.
At Andover, Andover 5, Exeter 4.

JOHNSON IN TROUBLE.

Discharges Little, His Manager, Who Threatens to Sue Big Fight.

San Francisco, Cal., June 6.—An open warfare between champion Jack Johnson and George Little, his manager, which started Saturday night, ground up yesterday afternoon when Johnson told Little that he was discharged. Little says that he has an ironclad contract with Johnson until May, 1911, and he threatens trouble. He says that unless the differences are settled he will sue the fight on July 4. In spite of the fact that he was discharged, Little insisted on retaining Johnson to fight tickets. Not until Johnson, backed by a squad of the city police, appeared did Little depart.

HE TARRIED TO WOO AND CAPTURED A BURGLAR

Girl's Pa Had Told Bowes to Go An Hour Before—Parents Now Strong for Cupid.

Waterbury, Conn., June 6.—Patriot Bowes went wooing Friday night. He wooed Miss Julia Bowen. Miss Bowen's parents, having reached an age when romances seem to them neither as sensible nor admirable as sleep, have hitherto disapproved of Bowes' sentimental passages. Now they are enthusiastic for cupid. Bowes' wooing was responsible for the interruption of a burglar.

Bowes and Miss Bowen sat under the crayon portraits in the front parlor talking stars, sympathy, wedding wax, souls and such like. They talked of this until nearly 10 o'clock. Then they changed the subject to talk of souls, wedding wax, sympathy stars and such like.

In the cellar they heard a suspicious noise. "It's a mouse," cried Mrs. Bowen, becoming becomingly timorous. "It's a burglar," declared Bowes, picking up a poker and assuming an attractively courageous attitude. "Father told you to go home an hour ago," said Miss Bowen. "I will defend my household with my life," asserted Bowes.

Portwith Bowes and the poker descended to the cellar, where they captured Louie Wyman, who drank to fight, but equipped with a black mask and a set of skeleton keys which he was applying upside down. Bowes took Wyman to the police station.

"How did I know there were a lot of lovers in the house?" demanded the indignant Wyman. The court held him in $500 bonds.

The engagement will be announced shortly," said the enthusiastic Bowes.

WHY THEY FAIL

Most Pile Remedies Miss the Cause of Piles.

Disagreeable treatment with ointments or suppositories usually fails to remove the cause. Such treatment only moderates the outside effects of the disease and fails to remedy the inside ailment. The up-to-date doctors now use internal medicine, to free the circulation in the lower bowel, and so remove the disease. Dr. Leonard's Hem-Roid, the first and only guaranteed internal pile cure, is the form of tablets—cure any kind of piles. Sold by Dr. H. H. Wells, Barra, Vt. at large box. A BREEZE IN THE HOUSE

Congressman Rainey Makes Charges

CONSERVATION IN SENATE

Measure Will Come Up for Consideration Today in That Body.

The Sundry Civil Bill.

Washington, June 6.—The House was put to some tension Saturday by the irrepressible Representative Rainey of Illinois, to whom the name of Taft is anathema, and who has utilized it much in charges in various ways in connection with the Panama canal, and more recently in connection with the ambitions of the sugar trust, holding that the trust has used the connection of Henry W. Taft with the firm of which Attorney General Wickersham was a member to "appropriate" the friar lands in the Philippines.

The session that brought the Democratic representative to his feet was the printed speech in Saturday's Record of Representative McKinley of California, which was an exposition and defense of the attorney general and the Henry W. Taft connection with the sale of the friar lands, and which related also to the prosecution of the sugar trust for frauds in New York. Mr. Rainey charged that while he had written his own speech it was true that he had consulted Mr. Wickersham and had had a statement from him which he in part had incorporated in his written speech. It was a bit difficult to maintain the amenities, but fortunately the rules of the House were not violated. Mr. Rainey promised to return in the charges.

The session took place at the end of the consideration of the sundry civil bill, which was passed before the House adjourned for the day.

The Senate was not in session, but the managers were busy framing the program for next week. Particular thought was given to the remaining procedure over the railroad bill, and Senators Cannon and Representative Mann, who had charge of the bill in the House, as to what had best be done. Three conferees will be chosen from each house from the Senate Messrs. Elkins, Aldrich and Foster, and from the House Messrs. Mann, Wagner and Alderman. Mr. Cullen of the Senate, who was entitled to serve from precedence, declined, and this permitted Senator Aldrich to be included among the managers. His iron will will be needed in a pinch against the iron will of Mr. Mann. Mr. Elkins would have been pitted in his hands.

A wrinkle smoothed out was the wrangle over whether the stretched bill or the conservation measure, called the land withdrawal bill, should succeed the railroad bill for consideration in the Senate. It developed that a program had been arranged on Friday, whereby the situation was so to adjust itself that the conservation bill should obtain precedence, but that there was to be a play on the part of Senator Beveridge, who was to seem to be very eager and insistent that the stretched bill should first be taken up. It appears that Mr. Beveridge played his part too well and this forestalled the aged Senator Nelson, who did not expect that he was to be expeditious in his part of the drama. Therefore he came out with bad second and was quite ruffled by the course events took. It was all "fixed" Saturday. So the Senate will begin consideration of the conservation measure to-day. How much debate it will excite remains to be seen.

The Senate committee on appropriations did not to spend much time over the sundry civil bill, but to report it to the Senate forthwith, and an appropriation bill having precedence, the bill will be discussed as soon as reported. It remains to be seen whether the insurgents will make that drastic attack on the Payne tariff act and make their stand for a tariff commission, which has been threatened all winter. If so, then there will be a merry time. The regulars hope for the best. Senator Burkett, who has just arrived from Nebraska, reports that the dissatisfaction of the people because of the tariff bill was not appreciably noticeable in Nebraska.

DARTMOUTH GETS $50,000

For New Administration Building In Memory of Wilder Parkhurst.

Concord, N. H., June 6.—Dartmouth received Saturday afternoon a gift of $50,000 for the construction of a new administration building. The gift is presented by Lewis Parkhurst of Winchester, Mass., and his wife, Emma L., who gave the money in memory of their son, Wilder, who died while a sophomore at college in 1907. Young Parkhurst was a brilliant student, and, according to the college faculty, at the time he died he showed scholarly attainments. The Parkhursts submitted plans for the new building, and the work of construction will be undertaken immediately by the building committee, which consists of Gen. Frank Streeter of Manchester, Charles E. Mathewson of New York and Congressman Samuel L. Powers of Massachusetts.

Lewis Parkhurst was graduated at Dartmouth in 1878. He was for many years president of the Dartmouth alumni and is a member of the publishing firm of Glen & Co. of Boston. He has been an alumni trustee of Dartmouth for the past three years. The trustees Saturday afternoon accepted the gift with a vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Parkhurst. The board also voted to increase the salaries of the professors.

SAVE SMALL INVESTOR

Railroads Will Plead With President Taft

MANY FAMILY NEST EGGS

Are Tied Up in Stocks—Threatened Action, Confers Ready to Urge.

Would Cut Off Small Dividends Entirely.

Washington, June 6.—The railroad, in their effort to find a point of attack on the administration's plans for restricting advances in freight and passenger rates, have seized upon the small investor as the best means with which to play upon the sympathy of President Taft. They have taken certain parts of the speeches of the president in which he excused the deliberation of his acts against corporations on the ground that the threatened action might injure the small investor.

President Taft gave this as his reason for advocating the legalizing of "mergers of non-competing lines" and of pooling agreements in the original draft of the railway bill, features which both Houses of Congress struck out. The plea of the railroads will be that the threatened action of the government will restrict the earning power of the companies, decreasing large dividends and cutting off small dividends altogether. They will urge that the holdings of railway shares are widely scattered; that many little family nest eggs and small fortunes are in railway stocks, and that the government's attack on rate "hoarding" is an indirect attack upon the savings of the widow and orphan.

President Taft returned to Washington last night. His morning roll of visitors will contain a lengthy list of the presidents, vice-presidents, general managers and corporation counsels of many of the big lines. The small investors now said also to have arranged to be represented in the series of conferences that will be then inaugurated.

No definite list of visitors to President Taft's conference on Monday or Tuesday is as yet available at the White House, but it is admitted that a large delegation of important railway officials is expected.

Attorneys for individual and associated shippers of the West and Middle West, who made the protest to Attorney-General Wickersham upon which the injunction was based, are here still, watching the railroads.

LICENSE TO THEODORE, JR.

Ex-President's Son Gets Permit to Wed June 20.

New York, June 6.—Theodore Roosevelt, jr., accompanied by his fiancée, Miss Edith Butler Alexander, applied Saturday to clerk Stuart Harris in the city hall for a license to wed on June 20. The couple, accompanied by a secretary to Collector Leach, arrived at the city hall in an automobile.

Young Roosevelt said he was 22 years old, a manufacturer and resided at Oyster Bay. Miss Alexander said she was 21 and lived in this city. He said he had given his father's name as Theodore Roosevelt and his mother's maiden name as Edith Carver.

KILLS SELF AND CHILD IN QUARRY.

Grandmother Feared Baby Would Be Taken from Her.

Quincy, June 6.—With the body of her 16-month-old grandchild, Irene Erickson, strapped tightly to her breast and enfolded by her arms, the body of Mrs. Maria Juni, 50 years old, was found by some boys floating in the abandoned and water filled Wilson quarry, Center street, here Saturday.

The woman and the little girl came to this country from Finland last Thursday, landing at Boston. Soon after their arrival here Mrs. Juni went to the home of the child's father, Felix Erickson, 23 Buckley street. Erickson, according to the story he tells the police, welcomed the child, but refused to take his mother-in-law in. Rebuffed, the woman went away with the child.

That was the last seen of them until their bodies were found last Saturday. Grief and despair are believed to have led the woman to throw herself to death with the child in the quarry pool. Erickson refused to shelter the dead woman, he informed the police, because of fear of harm coming to the child through the grandmother's mental condition, which he did not consider entirely normal. Erickson's wife, daughter of Mrs. Juni, met a tragic death at her own hands last July, when, while the entire family was enroute to Finland, she threw herself overboard from the liner and perished.

Acting Medical Examiner John Fraser of East Weymouth said Saturday night that all the circumstances pointed to suicide Friday or early Saturday.

FREE MEDICINE.

D. F. Davis Makes Unusual Offer to Women.

Barre women know from sad experience the folly of trying to cure their diseases by ordinary medicine. It is as foolish to expect to cure falling of the womb, irregular menstruation or other "female troubles" by the usual stomach drugging, as it would be to cure a burn or sprained wrist in that way.

The Palm Vine treatment is the only scientific way of curing women's diseases. It consists of two separate and distinct medicines; one for internal use, and the other for direct application. Each of these medicines sells at fifty cents, but to introduce the treatment in Barre D. F. Davis will give with every package of Palm Vine he sells a 50-cent package of sensitive tablets, and will further agree to refund the 50 cents if the purchaser is not satisfied.

Buy Real Clothes

You don't buy clothes every day, and when you do buy you want to be sure you are buying a garment which will "stand up"—real clothes.
